(see verso of this sheet for other matter)

Page 7. Question 4: a. What are the probable or possible developments if the "cold war" continues during 1952? In particular, in what areas and by what methods will the USSR be likely to continue its policies of expansion and obstructionism?

Page 7. Question 5: b. Will the USSR change its tactics to cooperation and "sweetness and light"? In such a case, will the change be genuine or will it have the purpose of weakening the U.S. militarily and economically?

Page 7. Question 7: d. What is the likelihood of events in the non-Soviet world [that might affect the NME budget and how would each such event affect the budget]? Particularly, world depression; [depression in the US]; revolution in the Philippines or in occupied areas; revolution or war in Latin America; [domestic disturbances in the US]; war or revolution in the Middle East and southern Asia; difficulties, particularly aggravated strikes or sabotage by labor and increased Communist political influence in countries signing the Atlantic Pact.

Note: Omit parts in brackets.

Questions should be read in light of JIC 435/21 "Soviet Capabilities and Probable Courses of Action, 1952".
